Dear Spenser;

I am excited to share Shelter's testimonial endorsement of the CPCU Society as a viable global nonprofit professional association providing great value to the risk management and insurance industry. I applaud their mission of providing knowledge and leadership opportunities for tens of thousands of leading professionals throughout the last eight decades. The CPCU designation and the CPCU Society has elevated the careers of countless industry leaders, including those here at Shelter. I have personally benefited from my CPCU designation.

I recognize that the Society provides professional members with access to leading knowledge, a critical network of global leaders, and enriching leadership opportunities to advance their careers. In addition, I appreciate the focus that the CPCU Society has on expanding membership access opportunities and valuable programs to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion within the risk management and insurance industry. The CPCU Society is a sound investment of time and resources for all industry professionals and leaders.

We at Shelter encourage our employees to take advantage of the CPCU opportunities and to strive for the designation. Our designees actively participate in the local CPCU organization which provides many educational and networking opportunities. Thank you for the work that you do on behalf of the Society.

Sincerely,
